WITH RENEWED CONFIDENCE WE ADVANCE

SUN GOLD (Rich Gold)

Chrysanthemums

Glorify Autumn

Giant exhibition types of Yellows; Reds, Gold; Rose; Whites; Cream and Bronzes. Tiny Buttons; Medium Buttons; Pompons; Singles; Anemones; to the large globular balls and shaggy ones.

For the convenience of our customers, we have arranged the collection into different classifications, in which we have assembled the various types under their respective characteristics.

INDIANOLA (Bronze)

These are universally popular for outdoor bedding, and considering their many good qualities, there is no cause for surprise to see them cultivated so extensively. They produce a lavish profusion of blooms, giving color, life and beauty to the garden just at a time when other plants have been destroyed by frost and are looking their worst.

Frost does not materially affect the flowering, and it frequently happens that an armful of flowers can be cut late in November. They are reasonably hardy if planted in a well-drained position, with a covering of leaves or loose litter during the winter, or may be carried over with perfect safety in a cold frame.

Cultural Notes for Successful Results

Start right by obtaining clean stock. It is not hard to keep such plants clean and healthy by following simple rules.

Never plant discarded greenhouse stock, which has been highly fed and forced (most Florists throw out such plants and buy new planting stock from the plant specialists).

We grow our stock plants in the field and greenhouse with special care under proper conditions for propagating. All plants are grown cool and kept clean. A visit here will convince you of this, and visitors are always welcome. We invite inspection.

When and How to Start Growing Chrysanthemums

In the Fall plants may be obtained either field, bedded or pot roots. The more hardy varieties may be set in beds or borders at once, while the moderately hardy ones should be planted on well drained soils, and protected with a covering of straw, leaves or manure. The tender varieties should be planted in cold frames, also in boxes or pans and kept in the cellar until Spring. In all cases of Fall planting cover all roots and shoots (new growth) with soil and water (soak) thoroughly at once when plants are received. The advantage of Fall planting is having more and larger clumps the first season and also for propagating.

Spring and Summer

Place your order early, designating when you want the plants to reach you. They may be had in March or April for those who prefer to grow them on in boxes or pans, in cold frames or sunny windows. Outdoor planting of this lovely Autumn flower usually starts about May 10th with June the high water mark of the planting season but plants can be reset as late as August and will flower the same Fall, provided you obtain potted plants. However, the earlier planting is recommended.

Soil

Never plant on poorly drained soil, although the chrysanthemum likes moisture it does not like wet feet. Most any other type of soil will grow them well. Heavy clay soil produces splendid results. Loosen the soil by cultivation several times after planting and mulch when plants start new growth.

Planting

As soon as plants arrive unpack them, if they have dried in transit set the roots in water, and place in a cool, shaded spot for three or more hours before planting.

Location and Spacing

Plants may be set singly in Hardy borders or beds with other flowers allowing about two feet of room for the Hardy varieties to naturalize and spread. In garden beds, when planted alone, 8 to 10 inches is plenty of room. For the ideal results we recommend the chrysanthemum bed with at least an 18-inch path through the middle of the bed. Beds may be made as long as is necessary to accommodate the desired amount of plants. Set the plants in rows 6 to 8 inches apart.

BEGONIAS

(Tuberous Rooted)
